First Haematology Workshop-cum-CME
for Laboratory Technologists
at AIIMS, Jodhpur

Laboratory technologists are integral part of any laboratory including Haematology laboratory. Haematology investigations are very commonly requested investigations and are needed in all kind of health care centres. Knowledge of basic and advanced techniques is needed for all technologists.

We, at All India Institute of Medical Sciences, Jodhpur, are organizing first scientific programme dedicated to Haematology for laboratory technologists during the Sixth Haematology update on February 10, 2024.

During this academic activity lectures and practical knowledge will be shared by experts in the field of Haematology.

Registration will be restricted for first 200 registrations only.

There will be no spot registration.
